

We've confirmed that Victor Cortez has gone to ground at Estudio del Manana. He's holed up in there 24/7 and it looks like he's keeping the door shut and only letting in familiar faces.

Have not seen him make contact with any out-of-towners.

Do you want us to rough him up or leave him alone?

No sign of any other interlopers. The mole rat is keeping to his rounds, just as agreed.
